This index is as complete and accurate an index as you can possibly find for past issues of the Harrison Heritage News

Use this index to search for and locate the content you need using the volume and issue number which follow each entry.

A warning to genealogists: Many an individual's name is included in this index, as you will find, however it is not an every-name index. Other techniques will be required to thoroughly search for the names of your elusive kinfolk.

Hard copies of back issues are on file at the Cynthiana-Harrison Co. Public Library and the Cynthiana-Harrison County Museum. The Kentucky Historical Society library also receives copies, which are kept on file. If you are viewing this index online, click on the available table of links to access past issues up to the very recent past.
