

Harrison Heritage News

Published monthly by

Harrison County Historical Society, PO Box 411, Cynthiana, KY 41031

Award of Merit - Publication or Journal, 2007 Kentucky History Awards

September 2009

Vol.10 No. 9

Harrison County in 1859: When Old was New

Philip Naff

Harrison County in 1859. It's been a century-and-a-half . . . fifteen decades . . . seven, maybe eight generations ago. You might think it sounds like way, way back in olden times, and you might be right . . . if you measure "old" by the number of turns the earth makes around the sun.

Beginning on page four, the feature item of this month's newsletter are texts about Harrison County which first appeared in George W. Hawes' Kentucky State Gazetteer and Business Directory for 1859 and 1860. Like U.S. Census records, gazetteers with their business directories offer useful snapshots of a time and place to the modern local historian or genealogist. In searching for the early practitioners of a relatively new technology of the time, photography, it struck me just how "new" so many entries in the volume must have seemed to those living in the towns and communities of Harrison County of 1859.

For example, the railroad only arrived in Harrison County in 1854 and one of towns listed, Berry's Station (now just Berry) virtually sprang into existence with the arrival of the locomotives of the Covington & Lexington. The courthouse in Cynthiana was finished the year before, in 1853 (It wasn't white and didn't have a clock or the wings it has today). A monument to the county's veterans of the Mexican War, which ended in 1848, was placed on the courthouse lawn in memory of those who lost their lives, and Buena Vista was reportedly given its name by veterans of that war.

But in human terms was 1859 really that long ago? When one considers that the youth of the 1920s, today's "Greatest Generation," grew up around neighbors and relatives who had been just as young in 1859 as they were in the 1920s, it may not seem that long ago (You might want to get their opinion on that, however!). Which raises the question: Just when does new get old? One answer to that question is partially revealed every year when Wisconsin's Beloit College publishes a list of cultural references for its professors, a list they might refer to in helping them remember just how "young" their freshman class is. For the college class of 2013 (b. 1991), some of the "signs of their times" are that . . .

- They have never used a card catalog to find a book
- Chocolate chip cookie dough ice cream has always been a flavor choice.
- They have never had to "shake down" an oral thermometer.
- There has always been blue Jell-O.
- Avon has always been "calling" in a catalog.
- Babies have always had a Social Security number.
- The KGB has never officially existed.
- There have always been flat screen televisions.
- Everyone has always known what the evening news was before the Evening News came on.
- Vice presidents of the United States have always had real power.
- Someone has always been asking: "Was Iraq worth a war?"

(You can see more of the list at www.beloit.edu/mindset/2013.php.)

While the Beloit list was a reference for the college generation, it brings to mind other freshman classes. What events which took place in Harrison County will differentiate one generation from another? For example, the current freshman class at Harrison County High has never known the county to be without a museum to visit. This year's freshman class at Harrison County High could be the last to remember the disaster of the 1997 flood which struck Cynthiana. Those who were born in 1997 will be the freshman class of 2013 and they will never remember a year without having heard of the terror attacks of September 11. What other changes will take place which define what is

Harrison County Historical Society

Billy Fowler, President
 Bob Owen, Vice President
 Marilyn Bell, Secretary
 Dorothy Slade, Treasurer
 Bill Penn, editor: pennwma@aol.com

President's Corner

Billy Fowler
 billyfowler@kymail.com

Last month I ended talking about negotiations concerning the Handy House. At that time no discussions had started but they were scheduled. These negotiations are now underway and as with any complex issue it takes time to work out all the details. I am not currently in a position to discuss the issue since nothing is settled. I am, however, hopeful that next month will bring an announcement.

Moving along to the next subject. What about this weather? Isn't it great? Well that is what you are supposed to talk about when you can't think of anything else. Right?

As I type this column Cynthiana and Harrison County are preparing for the Taste of Harrison County (an annual event). As always, Sharon and I will miss the festival. For some reason they have it on the same weekend that we attend another annual event. I feel safe in saying that it will be a success and enjoyed by many in spite of our absence.

Be sure to check out the schedule of upcoming historical society programs. There are a lot of good speakers scheduled, not to mention the Christmas potluck that we join with the Museum folks for each year. Good eating!! Don't miss it or any of the other programs. Some of you were expecting to meet at the newly renovated Prizing House in October. This outing has been postponed until January 21. Mrs. Gossett asked for the postponement due to a large event coming the week we were going to be there. Check it out. It may be something you would be interested in. As with any new (or old) local business they can use the community's support.

Speaking of support for local endeavors, the folks at the Rohs Opera House have brought back the very popular ghost walks. They will be held through September and October. We have taken the Ghost Walk both years that they have been held and will probably go again this year. Last year we took two eleven year old grandsons. That was a real treat. Give Rohs a call to confirm the schedule of these and other events.

Program Notes

August 20 - The Harrison County Historical Society met at the log cabin of Wayne Stafford, located on Dutch Chapel Road. After the business meeting, Mr. Stafford conducted a tour of the restored cabin and pointed out the log construction techniques used. Handy House negotiations were discussed.

Sept. 17 - President Fowler met with local government officials to continue negotiations on leasing the Handy House, however final approval is pending. The next meeting will be at the new public library community room behind Biancke's on Pleasant St. A video tracing the history of fire fighting equipment was shown. Cynthiana had 16 fire cisterns at intersections around town.

(above) Wayne Stafford on the porch of his log house, the site of the August HCHS meeting. Photo, Sharon Fowler.

Harrison County History Calendar

Oct. 15 - Women of Harrison County Sarah (Sally) Kinney.

November 19 - History of whiskey and distilleries presented by Angela Traver of Buffalo Trace Distillery (Joint with the Cynthiana-Harrison Co. Library).

Dec. 4 - Xmas potluck (joint with the Cynthiana/Harrison Co. Museum) 6:00 p.m. at First United Methodist Church.

January 21 - Meet at the newly renovated Prizing House located on North Church Street.

February 18 - Historical show-and-tell (always a favorite)

Mar. 18 - Carol Jarboe portays 18th c. Irish woman Maggie Delaney, who came to the colonies with family as indentured servant.

Apr. 15 - Living History - Northside Elementary history students.

May 20 - History projects - Eastside Ele. 5th grade history class.

Jun. 17 - Jerry Dailey, ex-FBI career with four presidents.

Cynthiana - Harrison County Museum

Martha Barnes, President    www.cynthiana-harrisoncountymuseum.org

An Art Museum As Well As a Local History Museum

At the museum, we recently hosted seventy 4th graders from Eastside Elementary. It was a great day with faithful museum volunteers making it possible. The trip was planned by Denise Marshall, an Eastside teacher. Denise and her colleague Jeff Kinney are dedicated to teaching social studies including local history, promoting the museum, and honoring veterans. These Harrison County natives indeed are outstanding teachers.

As I greeted one of the small groups of fourth graders, I encouraged them to look at the doll houses. Duh, Martha! It was a group of six boys. I quickly changed my invitation to "Let's look at the models, the replicas. Do you realize that all of our museum models were created by men." That terminology worked better and the boys seemed more interested. Before their museum visit ended, these young men had inspected and appreciated the model of Cynthiana fashioned by Harold Slade and Neville Haley, Neville's log cabin, Handy House, Harrison County High School, one room schoolhouse, and lighthouse, Donald Hill's covered bridges, and Bruce Mitchell's Walnut Street house. What special additions to the museum these models are!

We advertise that we are a local history museum, but as well we truly are an art museum. The models surely are a form of art. Other works of art displayed are oil paintings by Jane Sugg Gaffin, Joanie Gruelle Wannamaker, Robert Poindexter, and Herbert Allen Moore as well as pen drawings by Otis Tussey and many others. Our museum holdings include quilts, coverlets, seed and button art by Eddie Florence, dolls and their clothing, Native American baskets and implements, wood burning creations by Donald Hill, life size silhouettes by Harold Slade, photography, and so forth..

Another significant item in the museum collection is the doll house of Miss Katherine Wilson complete with furnishings. Miss Katie who is 101 has been an ardent museum patron since its beginnings. She, of course, the well known author of This Old House, has several family items on display - but the most notable is her doll house, fully furnished. Works of art included within are tiny rugs created by Miss Katie's mother. That's special!

See you at the Cynthiana-Harrison County local history and art museum!

Harrison County Genealogy Queries

RUTLEDGE/ROBINSON

Peter Rutledge purchased land on Raven Creek from Henry Huffman in 1806. On the 7th day of Jan. 1815, Peter Rutledge and wife Miriam sold to Wm. Brooks 120 acres on Raven Creek. Miriam must have died shortly after this, as in Jun 1816, Peter married Ruth Robinson. Elias Robinson performed the ceremony. Elias could have been Ruth's father. An interesting note is that Peter's son, Jacob, born 5 Feb 1793, married Polly (Mary) Robinson on 2 Nov 1816 in Harrison County, KY. Polly is possibly the daughter of Elias Robinson. Elias Robinson signed the marriage bond. I'd like to look for the grave of Miriam Rutledge (died 1815/16) -- I was planning to look at the Raven Creek Cemetery and the Robinson Cemetery. If there are other cemeteries I should look at, please let me know. The Elias Robinson family appears to have migrated to the Harrison County area from Tennessee. Any information on the Robinsons would be welcome as well.

Mike Kloenne
mabmkloenne@gmail.com

---

George W. Hawes'

---

Kentucky State Gazetteer and Business Directory

---

of 1859 and 1860

---

By Philip A. Naff (philnaff@comcast.net)

A gazetteer is defined as a "list and description of places such as villages, towns, and cities and may also mention neighborhoods, cemeteries, populations, rivers and mountains, and other geographical features."

George W. Hawes' Kentucky State Gazetteer and Business Directory for 1859 and 1860 was the first of at least eight such volumes published in Kentucky from 1859 to 1896 which are currently accessible by the public in libraries across Northern Kentucky.

Many of the statewide gazetteers for Kentucky of the latter half of the nineteenth century weren't just for providing a list of place names with brief descriptions. They included business directories and served as the phonebooks of their era, with lists of businesses and the men and women who ran them in each city, town and community, along with plenty of advertisements, which helped to pay for their publication. They provided information about access to shipping points, railroad availability, stagecoach fares, and the distances between communities.

Most of the information about the smaller communities was provided to the publisher by the local postmasters, and while there are only two post offices in Harrison County today, there were a dozen or more at any given time during the latter half of the 19th century. The failure of a few postmasters to respond to the queries of the publisher may account for the lack of a listing for some communities, while the self-promotion of others may have made their communities look larger or more important than their size alone would have indicated.

For those researching the era the business directories can serve as a census replacement for those censuses which have been lost, like that of 1890, or as an interim census, albeit one of only businessmen and women. If you are researching those of a particular profession or trade, like physicians or photographers, they can be invaluable in determining what services were available to the public of the past and who provided them.

These volumes can be curiously interesting, too, for what they don't show. For instance, if you didn't know it already, you couldn't tell by reading these entries that nearly a fifth of Harrison County's population were enslaved African Americans. In this respect, you might not be able to tell the entries of Cynthiana, Kentucky apart from those that might have been published for Cynthiana, Indiana.

If you are an avid read of the Harrison Heritage News you will probably recognize the names of several people listed in this directory who have been the focus of stories published over the past decade.

The following texts have been transcribed verbatim, with the full content as in the original entries.

So, take a short walk back down the streets of simpler times in Harrison County, do a little window shopping, and enjoy this glimpse into the past as much as these texts will allow. The first stop in your journey is . . .

BERRY'S STATION,

A post office of Harrison County, and station on the Lexington and Covington Railroad.

BROADWELL,

A post office of Harrison county, 32 miles north-east from Frankfort.

BUENA VISTA,

A post office of Harrison county, 45 miles north-east from Frankfort.

CLAYSVILLE,

(FORMERLY MARYSVILLE.)

A post village of Harrison county, on the west side of Licking river, 48 miles east north-east from Frankfort.

It contains a church, a woolen factory, a flouring mill, and several tobacco factories.

COLEMANSVILLE,

A post village of Harrison county, on the west side of the south fork of Licking river, 42 miles north-east from Frankfort.

CONNERSVILLE,

A post village of Harrison county, 42 miles east north-east from Frankfort.

CURRY'S RUN,

A post office of Harrison county, 44 miles north-east from Frankfort.

CYNTHIANA,

A post village and the capital of Harrison county, situated on the south fork of Licking river, and on the Kentucky Central Rail Road, 39 miles east north-east from Frankfort, 33 miles north-east from Lexington, fare $1,00; 175 miles from Columbus, Ohio, fare $5,00;

66 miles from Cincinnati, fare $2,00; and by stage 12 miles from Millersburg.

It is surrounded by a rich farming district, and contains the usual county buildings, twenty stores, one large carriage, wagon and plough manufactory, one extensive flouring mill, one male and female college, five Protestant churches, two weekly newspapers (the "Kentucky Age," W.W. Gruelle, editor and publisher, the "News," A.J. Morey, editor and publisher), one Masonic Lodge (St. Andrew's, No. 18), one lodge I.O.O.F., one bank (deposit Bank of Cynthiana, capital $25,000, John W. Peck, President, J.S. Withers Cashier) and a large number of various mechanical trades. Population 2,100.

ALEXANDER WILLIAMSON, Postmaster.

-----
Alphabetical List of Professions, Trades, Etc.

Addams, J., physician, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Ames, A.E., county surveyor.
Anderson, T.W., St. Charles Exchange, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Bents, W.L., tailor, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Bliss, M., merchant tailor, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Boyd, G.A., grocery, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Boyce, John S., clerk of Circuit Court, office in Public Square.
Box, Frank, tanners' ware, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Broadwell, S.E., staple and fancy dry goods, &c. (wholesale), Main, cor. Pike.
Cleary, Wm., county attorney.
CLEARY, WM. W., ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, OFFICE IN PUBLIC SQUARE.
Coffman, Henry, saddle and harness manufactory, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Coleman, James M., assessor.
Cox, John F., grocery, Main, cor. of Public Square.
Cromwell, H.F., carriage, wagon and plough factory, Walnut, cor. of Pleasant.
Cummins, Richard, cabinet maker, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Curry, J.R., attorney and County Judge and Commissioner in Chancery, office in Court House.
CUSON & GIVENS, DEALERS IN DRY GOODS, BOOTS, SHOES, HATS, CAPS, QUEENS, GLASS AND CHINA WARES, CARPETS, &C., &C., MAIN, BET. PIKE AND PLEASANT.
Dabney, J.R., druggist, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Day & Dills, produce and groceries, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Day & Remington, carpenters and builders, Walnut, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Deposit Bank of Cynthiana, John W. Peck, President, J.S. Withers, Cashier, capital $25,000.
Dilling, C.G., clothing store, Main, bet. Pleasant and Pike.

Dunn, G.W., tailor and renovator, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
English, Thos., boots and shoes, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Fennell, Joseph, saddle and harness shop, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Forrester and Givens, attorneys at law, office in Court House square.
Frizell, J.S., druggist, Main, near Pike.
GRUELLE, W.W., EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE "KENTUCKY AGE."
Gray, F.M., bakery and confectionery, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Hammar, Adam, boots and shoes, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Hobson, William C., tinner, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Hoffman, Wm. R., jailor.
Jones, Robert, staple and fancy dry goods, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Kaufman, M., clothier, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Kennard & Brother, grocery, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
"KENTUCKY AGE," W.W. GRUELLE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.
Kimbrough, Geo., grocery store, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Kirkpatrick, J., physician, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Lefresh & Curl, hardware and notions, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Lemmon, Geo., Harrison House, Main, bet. Pleasant and Pike.
Lossin, Oxley, blacksmith and wagon shop, Walnut, co. Pike.
McGrain, M., grocery, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
McIntosh, J.W., staple and fancy dry goods, clothing, &c., Main, opposite Court House.
Magee, J.L., boots and shoes, hats, stationery, &c, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Martin, J.D., hardware and groceries, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Mason & Rankin, staple and fancy dry goods, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Masonic Lodge, (St. Andrews, No. 18.)
Merrell, Levin, blacksmith and wagon shop, Main, cor. of Walnut.
Miller and Redman, dry goods, Main, bet. Pleasant and Pike.
Moffitt, Wm. N. & John S., surgeon dentists, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
MOREY, A.J., EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE "WEEKLY NEWS." (See card, p. 72.)
Morford, J.B., house painter, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Murphy, Mrs. M., proprietress West House, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.

Nichols, James T., livery stable, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Northcutt, W.L., dealer in dry goods, &c., Main, cor. Pike.
Patch & Gray, steam flouring mill, Walnut.
Peck, John W., president of the Deposit Bank, Main, cor. Pike.
PECK & FRAZER, DEALERS IN GROCERIES AND PRODUCE, MAIN, BET. PIKE AND PLEASANT.
Pollmeyer, Lewis, Franklin House, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
Rankin, T.R., Rankin House, Pike, cor. Railroad.
Rankin, T.R., coroner.
Roper, Wm. P., carpenter and builder, Main, cor. Walnut.
Shawhan, John, sheriff.
Shumate, Wm., undertaker and cabinet maker, Main, cor. Pleasant.
Smith, W.O., physician, office in Public Square.
Trimble, W.W., attorney at law, Main, bet. Pleasant and Pike.
TURTOY & EVELETH, MANUFACTURERS OF SADDLES, HARNESS, &C., &C., MAIN, BET. PLEASANT AND SECOND.
Vandenburg, C., ambrotypist, Main, bet. Pike and Pleasant.
WALL, JAMES G., DEALER IN OYSTERS, FRESH FISH, &C., PIKE, BET. MAIN AND WALNUT.
Webster, C.A., iron and hardware, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
West, James L., watch maker, Main, bet. Pike and Walnut.
Wherritt, Perry, county clerk.
WILLIAMSON, ALEX., POSTMASTER, Pike, bet. Main and Walnut.
Withers, J.S., cashier of the Deposit Bank, Main, cor. Pike.

HAVILANDSVILLE,

A small post village of Harrison county, situated on Richland creek, 14 miles from Cynthiana, the capital of the county, 54 from Frankfort, 18 miles from Covington and about 130 miles from Louisville.

In addition to the other productions of this vicinity, some two hundred hogsheads of tobacco are raised and exported annually.

The village contains one manufacturing establishment, one store, one steam flouring mill and one water saw mill, one pork packer and dealer, one blacksmith, one distiller, one magistrate and several small residences. Population 25. Post office established 1842.

H.H. HAVILAND, Postmaster.

Alphabetical List of Professions, Trades, Etc.

Blades, John W., ambrotype and daguerrean artist.
Cleveland, J.W. & W.F., distillers and rectifiers.
Eddleman, N.M., constable.
HAVILAND, H.H., POSTMASTER.
Haviland, H.W. & Co., pork packers and dealers.
Haviland, R.S., general merchants.
Haviland, R.S., steam flouring mill proprietor.
Morgan, E.J., blacksmith and plough maker.
Morrison, M., proprietor, Richard [sic] creek saw mill.
Mullins, Eld. A., Baptist pastor.
Pollard, Geo. F., magistrate.
Woolery, John, magistrate.

LEESBURG,

A post village of Harrison county, situated on Silas Creek in the south-western extremity of the county, 10 miles southwest from Cynthiana, the capital of the county, 30 miles east north-east from Frankfort, about 70 miles south from Covington and 75 miles east from Louisville.

It contains two churches (Christian and Presbyterian), one seminary, one Masonic Lodge (Warrant No. 110), one hotel, four general stores, one druggist, three physicians, two magistrates, one carding machine, two milliners and ten or twelve mechanical trades. Population about 200.

B.T. BOSWELL, Postmaster.

Alphabetical List of Professions, Trades, Etc.

Anderson, James, saddle and harness maker.
Anderson, Jas. W., blacksmith and plough maker.
Arnett, R.F., collector.
Arnett, T.B., constable and township trustee.
Arnold [sic], Rev. Thos., Christian church pastor.
Bishop, Miss M.J., assistant principal of Leesburg seminary.
Blackerly, Dr. John M., township trustee.
BOSWELL, B.T., POSTMASTER AND GENERAL MERCHANT.
Cummins, Benjamin, boot and shoe maker and dealer.
Forsythe, Rev. Wm. H., Presbyterian pastor.
Furnish, Thos., magistrate.
Grehan, B.N., principal of Leesburg seminary.
Harris, James T., saddle and harness maker.
Hillman, S.P., physician and druggist.
Leesburg Hotel, W.E. Stout, proprietor.
Harn, Wm. H., tailor and assessor.

Leesburg Hotel, W.E. Stout, proprietor.
Harn, Wm. H., tailor assessor.
Leesburg seminary, B.N. Grehan, principal, Miss M.J. Bishop, assistant.
Shields, Miss Mary, milliner and dressmaker.
Shields, T.B., carpenter and builder.
Stout, T.H., general merchant.
Stout, W.E., Leesburg hotel proprietor.
Thomas, J.D., general merchant.
Thomas, John D., township trustee.
Thomas, Miss Maria, milliner and dress maker.
Walker, W.A., carding machine proprietor and cabinet maker.
Walker, Wm. A., township magistrate and trustee.
Wasson, J.M., general merchant.
Wasson, John M., township trustee.
Woodford, J.M., physician and surgeon.
Woodward, Wm., tailor.

ODDVILLE,

A small post village of Harrison county, situated on Beaver creek, six miles from Cynthiana, the capital of the county, 40 miles east north-east from Frankfort, 60 miles from Covington, and 75 from Louisville.

It contains one Methodist Episcopal church, one high school, one division Sons of Temperance, No. 279, two steam sawmills, two general stores, one physician, one attorney, one magistrate, two carpenters, two blacksmiths, two boot and shoe makers, two carriage and wagon makers, two chair manufacturers, one cooper, one distiller, one gunsmith, two shingle makers, three stone and brick masons, one turner, and twelve or fourteen resident planters. Population 75. Post office established in 1851.

A.F. WHITEKER, Postmaster.

Alphabetical List of Professions, Trades, Etc.

Batson, John D. physician and surgeon.
Brannock, W., planter.
Chapel, Rev. M.E., Methodist.
Crow, J.C., carpenter and builder.
Cunningham, W.W., turner.
Garrett, E., planter.
Goodnight, P., stone and brick mason.
Hays, T.G., boot and shoe maker.
Jenkins, Brockman, shingle maker.
Kavanaugh, Rev. W.B., Methodist.
Kerns, Hugh, stone and brick mason.
Lang, Robert, blacksmith.
Lebus, Louis, school teacher.
Lucus, Milton, attorney at law.
McWhitaker, H., steam saw mill proprietor.
Moore, George W., carriage and wagon maker.
Moore, N.S., carriage and wagon maker.
Phelps, G., planter.
Rogers, John, chair manufacturer.

Rose, Joseph C., boot and shoe maker.
Smith, James T., magistrate.
Smith, James T., cooper.
Spegals, Philip, shingle maker.
White, David, planter.
White, James M., blacksmith.
White, Wm., chair manufacturer.
WHITEKER, A.F., POSTMASTER.
Whiteker, M.D., distill[er].
Whiteker, M.D., steam saw mill proprietor.
Whiteker, T.J., carpenter and builder.

RAVEN CREEK,

A post office of Harrison county, about 40 miles north-east from Frankfort.

ROBERTSON'S STATION,

A post office of Harrison county, north-east from Frankfort.

RUTLAND,

A post office of Harrison county, north-east from Frankfort.

SCOTT'S STATION,

A post office of Harrison county, north-east from Frankfort.

Source: Hawes, George W., George W. Hawes' Kentucky State Gazetteer and Business Directory for 1859 and 1860, Louisville, Ky.: G.W. Hawes, 1859 (Available on microfiche at the Kentucky Historical Society, Frankfort, Ky. and also at your local LDS Family History Center.)